

Porth Gwyrdd: Green Gateway project; a five-year project funded by the National Lottery which aims to inspire, engage, and support marginalised young people aged 16–30 in Mid and Southwest Wales to pursue sustainable, green careers.

The project is co-designed with and for young people who are disabled and/or from diverse ethnic communities particularly those who are:

- On the margins of education and employment
- On low incomes
- Living in rural areas

We're inviting local environmental projects and groups to get involved and help these young people gain valuable work experience both unpaid and paid in activities such as:

- Carbon reduction and renewable energy
- Nature restoration and conservation
- Eco-tourism
- Eco-manufacturing and eco-retailing

By partnering with us, they will gain access to:

- Motivated local talent
- Ongoing workplace support during volunteering and / or work experience placements
- Training in inclusive recruitment and business practices
- Potential wage subsidy funding opportunities
- Support to become a Disability Confident Employer

We provide full guidance and support to make any work experience opportunities straightforward and rewarding for all.

If you're interested in getting involved, please get in touch so we can discuss how we can work together.

Kind regards,
Emma
